

[illegible][illegible][illegible]

COMMERCIAL.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE MARKETS.

REMARKS.—The market has been somewhat quiet for some time, but has recently become more active. The price of sugar has advanced, and the price of coffee has declined. The price of rice has advanced, and the price of wheat has declined. The price of corn has advanced, and the price of cotton has declined. The price of wool has advanced, and the price of oil has declined. The price of flour has advanced, and the price of meat has declined. The price of sugar has advanced, and the price of coffee has declined. The price of rice has advanced, and the price of wheat has declined. The price of corn has advanced, and the price of cotton has declined. The price of wool has advanced, and the price of oil has declined. The price of flour has advanced, and the price of meat has declined.

[illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible]

